

Update from Freyer Family

Hello friends, Hi. Hi. This is the Freyer family, your missionaries to New Zealand. We just wanted to come on and give a bit of a different update this month.

Instead of an update letter per se, we thought we'd make a video and just kind of explain what's been happening the last few months in our lives and in ministry and just very grateful for all that's happened.

And we have since returned to New Zealand from our furlough. And the Lord just really blessed that. We were able to see just several of our churches that support us and just kind of rekindle friendships and talk with several people and just be able to give an update of what's been happening in the last couple of years and what is coming.

And so, it was a huge blessing. We got back safely. We were very tired when we landed. We had some trouble in the airport with Indy's visa, but the Lord got us through, got us on the plane and we got back safely and so we're so grateful for that and just kind of an update of what's coming tomorrow which will be Wednesday,

October the 8th here in New Zealand, Tuesday, October the 7th there in the US. We will be heading to our new place, our new city, where we're going to plant the church, the city of Gizben, New Zealand, and Indy's excited about it, don't let her fool you, she's very excited about it. But we are, we'll be making our way there, and I'm going to take a couple days to get there, we're going to kind stop halfway and just kind of do a little bit of a tiki tour if you will and we're hoping to get there on Friday and begin to get settled into our house and just

And so, we thought we'd come on and give that update and just being able to Again see so many of you with such a blessing over our furlough.

So, thank you so much for your prayers and your support and We look forward to the next update probably in letter form again of what God is doing and as we come into the last portion of 2025, we hope you have a great close to your year.
